Introduction

- Amazon as an E-Commerce business
- Hundreds of millions of product offerings
- Utilized a single market list
 - Over two million product offerings
 - Over 300 categories
- "isBestSeller" category on Amazon
 - Signifies top-selling products
 - Algorithm undisclosed
 - Represents significant sales success

Objective and Goals

- Build a “IsBestSeller” classification model
- Utilize Neural Networks as a model base

Objective and Goals

Optimization based on dataset schema:

root
|-- asin: string (nullable = true)
|-- title: string (nullable = true)
|-- imgUrl: string (nullable = true)
|-- productURL: string (nullable = true)
|-- stars: double (nullable = true)
|-- reviews: integer (nullable = true)
|-- price: double (nullable = true)
|-- listPrice: double (nullable = true)
|-- categoryName: string (nullable = true)
|-- isBestSeller: boolean (nullable = true)
|-- boughtInLastMonth: integer (nullable = true)

Optimization Strategies

- Pyspark to Parquet dataset to manage 2+ million lines
- Removed url based feature columns
 - Asin, Image URL & Product URL
- Converted title to character length for processing

Optimization Strategies

Neural Network Model

- Test Model:
 - 57 input features
 - 1 hidden layer
 - 15 neurons
 - 75 epoch
 - Activation Functions:
 - Input: Relu
 - Output: Sigmoid

Approximately 100% Accuracy Score but 0% Recall Score = Something is wrong

5624/5624 [=====] - 8s 2ms/step
Accuracy: 0.9954879864861861
Recall: 0.0

Neural Network Model

- Problem:

label_input_ratio = df["isBestSeller"].value_counts().values[0] / df["isBestSeller"].value_counts().values[1]
label_input_ratio

246.97742118716275

- The original data had over 246 times more ordinary sellers than best sellers.
- The model became very good at predicting if a target is not a best seller than if a target is a best seller.

Model Tuning – Resampling

Pre-Resampling

- Model only guessing “Zero”
 - High Accuracy
- Accuracy not sufficient for model performance
 - Low Recall

Accuracy: 0.9954879864861861
Recall: 0.0

0	537493
1	2399

0	537493
1	537493

Post-Resampling

- Model accuracy decreased
 - Still within 75% threshold
- Significant Recall increase
 - Overall Model performance improves

Accuracy: 0.8068835989420107
Recall: 0.853448275862069

Feature Importance – Next Steps

How?  How can sellers use this information to make a competitive advantage

Steps

- Financial Review Incentives
 - Discounts, money back, etc.
- Sentimental Strategies
 - Card, personalized email
- Review manipulation
 - Buying reviews

Expanded Analysis – Interaction Terms

Interaction Terms

- Relationship between Reviews and the individual categories

categoryName_Women's      categoryName_Women's Clothing_reviews_interaction  Handbags_reviews_interaction

Model Adjustment

- Double neurons 15 \Rightarrow 30
- Increase epochs 75 \Rightarrow 100

Accuracy: 0.825859616367718
Recall: 0.8115763546798029

Expanded Analysis – Results

Next Steps?

Premium Members

- Interaction terms with ALL actionable features
- Online technical support
- Guided model customization

Results and Findings

- Explored factors influencing Amazon best seller status
- Identified crucial attributes, with a focus on review count impact
- Highlighted the need to adjust sales and marketing strategies for increased reviews
- Examined interaction terms to understand category influences
- Discovered review sensitivity in categories like hunting, fishing, grocery, and baby products
- Proposed targeted review campaigns for substantial benefits in these segments
- Emphasized the model's overall value in optimizing product listings
- Provides insights for sellers to enhance competitiveness on Amazon
